The A. H. S. Newscast

By Peggy Ellen Cole

Hi Gang!

Well, I hope the ghosts and goblins didn't get you Hallowe'en night. There were quite a few people at the PTA party, but don't ask me who any of them were.

We had a movie in the auditorium Thursday afternoon and took a holiday from school from that afternoon until Monday morning. We sure were sorry we hated to miss a day from school, but the teachers just had to confer down in Richmond.

We want to welcome to AHS our new 8th grade teacher, Miss Claudine O'Brien. We hope she's going to like us as well as she did those Maryland kids.

Those country-looking characters that you saw walking around in the rain Tuesday weren't farmers from Oakville, but The Future Farmers of America. The FFA was initiating its new members and they sure look like a grand lot. This is National FFA week also. The first year members of this organization are being initiated this entire week. They don't have to dress up, but they're the cleanest of the upper classmen in the club. So, girls, this is the week you get your dirty work done.

The SCA and FHA are joining forces this week to sponsor a Clean-Up Campaign on Thursday. This program will be worked through the Physical Education classes. Won't each of you try to do all in your power to make this a success? Let's have our school make a reputation for being the cleanest in the state!

The chapel program on Wednesday was sponsored by the FHA girls. From this program we could all see that the goals, purposes and standards of the FHA are certainly worthwhile. At this same chapel program, the SCA representatives gave short talks on the Clean-Up Campaign. Oh, and didn't you all notice the new song books in the auditorium. These are gifts of the SCA and they look so nice and new; let's see if we can't keep them that way.

If you've noticed any people hard at work—it's just the annual staff. They are working desperately to give you the best annual you've ever had. Please, let us each do your part on the 1952 annual by subscribing right away through your home-room representative.If you have any snapshots you would like to go in the annual, you will find a box in the library, and in Mrs. Gilbert's room for this purpose.

The football game was rained out Friday night, but I don't think it hindered the team's playing Monday night. The boys did a bangup job and romped to a 26-0 victory over Schoolfield.Congratulations to Coach Bragg and the team. Our next game is with our old rival, South Boston here November 16, at the Lee Ball Park.

There were University of Virginia scouts here Monday night to watch our team perform.

The posture contest sponsored by the SCA is a great success. I can already see much improvement in the posture of our students. The winners for this week are:

12th grade: Ann Goad, Ed Cawthorne.

11th grade: Shirley McCormick, "Red" Thomas.

10th grade: Goldie Rush, Shirley Harris, Sid Coleman.

9th grade: Mavis Carter, Jane Holt, Ellis Grisham, Claude White.

8th grade: June C. Conner, Janet Proffitt, Thomas Buchanan, Alton Smith.

Faculty: Mr. Bragg, Miss Allen.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y elected officers for the year as follows:

President, Edna Gregory
Vice-president, Eloise Couch
Secretary, Ann Evans
Treasurer, Geraldine Lucado
Reporter, Becky Reynolds
Advisor, Miss Davis.

This just about takes up all of my space for this week, so I'll sign off. Remember to do your part and more in the clean-up day and let us try to make every day a clean-up day. I'll be seeing you again next week.

Appomattox 26 Schoolfield 0

The Appomattox Blue Hornets won their seventh football victory of the season Monday night when they downed a strong team from Schoolfield High School of Danville, 26 to 0. The game had been postponed from Friday night.

The scoring was done as follows: The first touchdown came on a march of 94 yards and was climaxed by a quarterback sneak of one yard by Teddy Mitchell and the extra point was added. The second score came when Bill Jamerson, Carter Woodson and Dan Carson blocked a Schoolfield punt, which Ray Wingfield picked up and ran 50 yards for the tally. Bobby Chernault contributed a beautiful block on the play. The third score came on another punt blocked by Bill Jamerson, which was converted into an AHS touchdown. The last touchdown was made on a nice run of 35 yards by Ed Cawthorne in the last quarter. He turned in some excellent broken field running, and he also kicked the extra point to make it 26 to 0 for Appomattox.

The boys who play defense don't get much credit in the average football game, but Coach Gordon Bragg went all out to praise his defensive unit. He pointed out that some of the boys never play on offense when their team has the ball. The defense unit for Appomattox consists of "Red" Thomas, Bobby Chernault, Bill Jamerson, Charles Carter, Dan Carson, Carter Woodson, Billy Johnston, Kendall Hunter, Ray Wingfield and Ed Cawthorne. Some of these boys double up and play both. In eight games, these boys have held their opposing teams to a total of 20 points. In the meanwhile, Appomattox has scored 213 points on offense.

The Appomattox Junior Varsity will play its last game of the season when they travel to V. E. S. Friday to meet their Junior Varsity. They have won 4 games and lost none, and have had only one touchdown scored on them.

A. H. S. to Play South Boston Friday Night

Appomattox High School's Blue Hornets face the last two football games of the season, with a record to date of seven victories and one loss. A. H. S. will meet the South Boston H. S. team here this Friday night in a Group Two District Four League game. Then on Wednesday night, November 21, A. H. S. will play Farmville High School here for the first time in the history of local football. That will be the final game of the season.

The Junior Varsity ended their season last Friday by defeating the V. E. S. Junior Varsity, 18 to 0. This gave the A. H. S. Junior Varsity a record of 5 wins and no losses for the year. The record:

Appomattox JV 19, Robt. E. Lee 0
Appomattox JV 13, Altavista JV 0
Appomattox JV 18, Bedford JV 0
Appomattox JV 20, Amherst HS 7
Appomattox JV 18, B. E. S. JV 0.

The Junior Varsity scored a total of 88 points against 7 for the opposition. Most of these boys will be moved up to the varsity next year, and their experience this year should be a big help in building another successful team for Coach Gordon Bragg and the school.

Calcium For Poultry

Too little calcium in poultry feed may be to blame when hens lay soft-shelled eggs.

This tip comes from the Extension Service, which says soft shells may result when birds fail to get enough calcium from oyster shell or limestone in their feed. He advises keeping oyster shell in separate hoppers before birds at all times. Keep the hopper free of litter and accumulated fine oyster shell powder. Mash, and to a lesser extent, animal protein concentrates, normally contain some calcium.

Also listed as an important factor in producing sound egg shells is vitamin D. When short, cloudy days reduce the amount of this vitamin available from sunlight, fish oil or a dry vitamin D concentrate should be added to the mash.

THINKING UP NAMES FOR COWS TOUGH JOB!

Naming the new baby poses no more mental effort than is involved in naming dairy cattle at V. P. I.

Whenever the necessity arises, the various members of the dairy department become poets and sages and come up with some fancy monikers. Each year, a different letter of the alphabet is chosen with which to be given the name of all dairy cattle. Right now, in 1951, the letter is "N." And the dairymen think they may start over with "A" next year, because all of the ancestors whose names began with "A" are now deceased.

The name tells a lot, if you know the code.

For example, take the name VPI Ma esty Elly Nora. The name tells first, that it is a VPI cow. Second, that the animal was sired by a bull with the given name of Majesty. Third, that the cow's mother was named Elly. And fourth, that the the cow was named this year since its given name begins with "N."

SOIL TEST NOW URGED

A few cents spent now for a soil test could mean a saving of several dollars for Virginia farmers when they buy next year's fertilizers.

R. B. Hudgins, county agent, says if a farmer knows well in advance just what plant nutrients are needed, he can make his fertilizer purchases accordingly. Money spent for any particular plant food is wasted if the field already has enough.

The point is, he says, a fertilizer dollar goes further if it is spent for exactly what a field needs.

Early testing is particularly beneficial in cases where lime is needed, since lime should be applied as much as si. months in advance of seeding of certain crops.

The agent can supply soil sample boxes, and give full instructions for collecting and mailing samples for testing.

EXHIBIT ANNOUNCED

Working models of scientific inventions designed almost 500 years ago by Leonardi da Binci will go on view November 30 at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts for the first time in the Eastern United States.

Co-sponsored by the Museum and the Kiwanis Club of Richmond, this collection of more than 50 incredibly modern devices, many of which foreshadow the most fabulous 20th century machines, includes colorful wooden and metal models ranging from a parachute, tank and machine gun to a revolving stage, an air-conditioner, derrick, scaling ladder and even the familiar and handy jack. The Virginia Museum is the first of many museums throughout the country to show this collection of models since it was purchased by the International Business Machines Corporation this year.

High-lighting the exhibition will be a bat-like flying machine with a wingspread of 14 feet. It will be suspended from the ceiling of one of the six galleries set aside for Leonardo's work. Like all models in the display, even the hydraulic devices using real water, the airplane can be put into motion by visitors both young and old, according to directions left by this extraordinary renaissance artist said to have possessed "a genius for art and science unparalled in any other individual in history."

There is also a coin stamper, a model of the one actually built and used in Leonardo's own day to stamp out coins for the Papal State.

Growers Vote Dec. 7 On Leaf Quotas

Virginia growers of fire cured tobacco will vote on Friday, December 7, to decide whether or not they want to continue producing the crop under marketing quotas after 1951, chairman E. R. Gowin of the Appomattox PMA County Committee announced today.

If quotas are continued, growers will continue to get price support on the tobacco produced within their farm acreage allotments. If growers disapprove quotas, there will be neither acreage allotments nor price support on next year's crop, he said.

In the past, Virginia growers have substancially favored marketing quotas on fire-cured tobacco, having approved quotas by a 96 per cent majority when they last voted three years ago.The prices they have received for the crop in recent years have justified their stand, Mr. Gowin observed.

In order that Appomattox County growers may be brought up to date on the supply and demand situation with respect to dark tobacco, and fully understand the issues on which they will be voting, a meeting has been arranged for Wednesday, November 21, at 2:00 P.M. in the county court house.

Chairman Gowin very strongly urged all growers of dark-fired tobacco to attend this meeting, as the marketing quota issue is a matter of vital concern to all such farmers.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Here Saturday

General Matthew B. Ridgeway in an urgent message to our people in America this past week said, "The chances of wounded Americans returning alive to their home land will be greatly enhanced by the citizens of America going immediately to their nearest blood center and giving a pint of blood."

Appomattox County people of the ages 18 - 60 years will be given an opportunity to show their sacrificial support of our boys in bloody Korea by coming to the Bloodmobile at the Appomatox High School Cafeteria between the hours of 9:30 A. M. and 3:45 P. M., Saturday, November 17, and giving a pint of blood toward saving lives both at home and in Korea.

Just one half the number needed to sign blood donor cards had responded by Monday, November 12.

Therefore YOU are asked to appear at the Cafeteria in Appomatox High School whether or not you have signed a blood donor card. The boys in Korea need help and they need it Saturday, November 17. If you are between 18 and 21 and are not married, you can donate blood by getting your parent's signed consent. If you are 18 - 21 and married, you do not need your parent's consent.

When a Bloodmobile visit is made to Appomattox County from the Roanoke Blood Center, many local volunteers assist in making the visit successful. When the Bloodmobile comes to the Appomatox High School Cafeteria, the Blood Committee will be in charge of the preparation and serving of food and refreshments and need a number of helpers. Miss Ava Chilton is charged with the responsibility of securing seven nurses in addition to herself.

In order to conserve Red Cross funds for other purposes, the Appomattox County Chapter has initiated the policy of having churches and other organizations take turns in furnishing meals and refreshments during the Bloodmobile visit—free of charge. On Saturday, November 17, the ladies of Liberty Baptist Church will furnish the needed food and refreshments. Mrs. Don Moses is chairman of the food committee.

All those who expect to donate a pint of their blood on Saturday, November 17, at the High School Cafeteria, are advised not to eat fats (such as cream and butter), meat, fried foods and eggs for at least four hours before giving blood. Light foods are desirable during these four hours: fruit, fruit juices, Gry toast, raw vegetables or boiled in plain water; jam, jelly, or honey; skimmed milk; black coffee or tea with sugar.

Blood Program Chairman.
